

The Doubles Bracket

In many parts of the world, this game is called “World Cup” or “Copa Mundial.” Using a half the field, divide your team into pairs and assign them a country to represent. Each pair of teammates works together to score goals... or work with other pairs to defend teams from scoring.

- The goalkeeper punts the ball out to start the round.
- The pair must work together to score against all other defenders.
- Teams that score advance to the next round.
- A round is complete when there is one team remaining, which is eliminated.
- The next round starts over with all of the teams that scored in the previous round.
- Rounds continue as such until there is a champion.
